

OTTAWA LETTER

Magistrates will in future not have the option of imposing a fine or suspended sentence on a man found to be intoxicated in charge of a car. A jail sentence will be obligatory. When is a man drunk? This was discussed at some length. One member said some magistrates seemed to think a man was sober if he could stand on his feet. The same member claimed that after one drink a man was unable to act quickly. Although this member was 58 years old he had never taken his first drink, and for this he received loud applause. However, all were decided that in view of the many serious accidents on motor roads the drunken driver should go to jail and the case closed.

Canada's Note issue is now in the hands of the Governor of the Bank of Canada. The government will issue no currency (the notes) in the future and the right to issue will slowly be withdrawn from the banks at the rate of 5 percent per year for 5 years and in full for the next 5 years. Values at $20.00 an ounce the government turned over to Mr. Towers $7,000,000 in gold and the banks turned in $25,000,000 worth. The gold saved will be based on the gold and will have a coverage of 50 per cent whereas the statutory coverage is only 25 per cent.

Regardless of all the rumors about the Conservative leadership, it seems quite likely that Mr. Bennett will continue to lead.

PARENTS DAY AT BAINTREE SCHOOL

On the afternoon of the 21st of May Baintree School celebrated Parents Day. Fifteen Mothers and Daughters besides other friends gathered to watch Baintree pupils at work and at play. It was an inspiring sight. Under the genial but firm guidance of Mr. J. E. May, teacher, the well "clicked" smoothly, and passed easily half hour of song and story, enjoyed also by a brief debate between the pupils of the Senior classes. There is undoubtedly a fine spirit of co-operation between Mr. May and his pupils, and the same spirit prevails between teacher and parents, which never before has been the case at Baintree, at least to any such degree as at present.

In the informal meeting of teacher and parents afterwards the parents were very pleased with the progress of the children and said so enthusiastically. Mr. T. Longbottom had in a few words of appreciation on behalf of those concerned, and with a hearty round of applause from all the afternoon concluded.

CHEADLE BUTTES SOFTBALL

On Saturday June 1st the Chedale Buttes Girls Softball Team journeyed to Calgary and met the Missions in an exhibition game at Crystal Park. The Missions are the leading team in the intermediate section of Calgary. Apparently they were not good enough for the Buttes girls as they won with a score of 18-10. It did not take the city team long to see they were outclassed and so belated their line up, with a Park Hill senior pitcher, with a second and short stop from the Red Wings, also a senior team.

The Girls all played spectacular ball. The following was the lineup: Catcher, Clara Deeg pitcher, Florence Craig catcher, Peggy Hainier first base, Bertha Deeg second base, Doris Deeg short stop, Irene Paul third base, Alice Shovelent reserve first base, Gladys Lam center field, Elaine Deeg right field, Ellen Barr sub.

In our opinion the Chedale Buttes have every reason to be proud of their girls team and all success is wished them should they enter the Provincial Playoffs, which we are given to understand is their intention at present.

The interesting article on another page on John Macfield is from the Christian Science Monitor.

The accompanying chart shows how the price of gasoline to the retailer has decreased and the gasoline tax has increased since 1924. The data for this graph are based on figures published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

LOWER PRICES—HIGHER QUALITY

EVER since 1920 the price of gasoline has steadily declined. Few people realize this however because during the past ten years as the price dropped the tax increased. In 1923 there was no provincial gasoline tax and the average price of gasoline to retail dealers across Canada was 27 1/2 cents per gallon. Today the average price of gasoline to retailers is 18 1/2 cents but to this is added a tax of from 8 to eight cents per gallon which goes directly to the provincial governments. Not only has the price of gasoline fallen steadily since 1920 but the quality has consistently improved. The gasoline consumer today gets more value than ever before. Sometimes you hear talk of large profits earned by the gasoline refiner. In 1934 Imperial Oil earned $3,025,400.12. This may seem to be a large sum but to earn it Imperial Oil had to make and market gasoline and other products amounting in value to $82,841,311.13. That is to say Imperial Oil's earnings were relatively no greater than those of a merchant who, selling $8,280 worth of goods in the course of a year, made a net profit of $300.

THE POET LAUREATE JOHN MASEFIELD

One doesn't discuss Masefield. One reads him, and reveres him—about what future generations will think of him, and the Everlasting Mercy, it were rash of course, to predict, but human nature remaining human nature, it is more than likely that the shrewdly portrayed characters of this poet of the 20th century will become legendary.

It was Masefield who said that poetry should please more than the small book-reading class. Poetry too generally, he has written, has been designed to be read instead of spoken; and perhaps no poetry can be widely or lastingly popular that is not made to be spoken.

No other English-speaking poet has captured in such finished, refined form the mixture of brutality and tenderness, the broad and tender and the superlative, of the sailor's character, nor welded into such neat patterns the incongruous rhythms of the sea, the colors of storm and sunlight, the colors of sulphur and of salt.

The later poems are further evidence of the artist's ability to employ direct force or understatement, according to the subject and nature of the work. That understanding of the common, hungering heart, of the worker whose aspirations rather than achievements are great, stamps a universal and enduring mark on what is at all times carefully shaped expression.

Without the graphic accounts of barbarity indulged by younger writers, Masefield gave us in his war poem, August 1914, an almost unbearable realization of what the conflict meant, with his lines.

So beautiful it is, I never saw
So great a beauty on these English fields, Touched by the twilight's coming in
to awe,
Ripe to the soul and rich with summer's yield—
The harvest not yet won, the empty bin,
The stallid horses taking from the stalls,
The fallow on the hill not yet brought in.

The cracks unimpaired in the looking wall.

His pictures of the countryside are as vivid as any he has drawn of the sea. The very smell of the hedges is in "Beyond the Post" of whose author he recalls:

He loved the English countryside;
The wine-leaved hedges in the ride,
The lichen on the apple trees,
The poultry ranging on the leas,
The farm, the moist earth-smelling
cover,
His wife's green grave at Mitchell-dover,
Where snowdrops pushed at the first thaw.

Swimming has started in the river shallows but the warm spots are too far apart as yet.

The Thompson farm south of Dalmead was recently the scene of a painful accident when "Bud" Thompson slipped off the drawbar of the tillage combine while the tractor was in motion. He managed to get back along the drawbar, took the tractor to the end of the field, and then drove his truck home. He is having the broken leg attended to in a Calgary Hospital and we wish him a speedy recovery.

TOURIST ENQUIRIES HEAVY
Hundreds of enquiries from prospective tourists are now being handled at the provincial publicity office, a new all-time record being established in this connection. The huge increas-comes largely as a result of the organized effort put forth in the past few seasons, chiefly through the passage of Canadian Travel Bureau at Ottawa.
